1. Can you imagine our world without the Internet! The Net was invented just twenty years ago. Do you want to know more about its development? Please translate the following passage from English to Chinese. 電腦科技報導一則,英翻中 (25%)

The addition of imagery and magazine-like layout transformed the Internet into a gigantic publishing vehicle, an information-creation engine. It was as if a new guild based on new technology had been created in the Middle Ages; virtually every medium that had been invented in the past could now be presented through the Internet and users could interact with this information in ways no book, radio, television or newspaper could offer. The tsunami that flowed into the Internet via the World Wide Web also created the need for tools to find specific content in an ocean full of information. Thus were born a series of search engines and the giant companies such as Google and Yahoo! associated with them.

I'm Nobody! Who are you?

I'm Nobody! Who are you?

Are you—Nobody—too?

Then there's a pair of us!

Don't tell! They'd banish us—you know!

How dreary—to be—Somebody!

How public—like a Frog—

To tell your name—the livelong June—

To an admiring Bob!

c. 1861
